The Nonprofit Recruiter™

The Nonprofit Executive Search and Recruiting Firm

The Non-Profit Recruiter™ is an executive search and recruitment firm specializing in recruiting for not-for-profit organizations and associations.

Our mission is to help not-for-profit organizations and associations acquire top talent, while helping professionals attain career-enhancing opportunities that allow them to achieve the quality of life they seek.

Our goal is to build long-term partnerships with employers to resolve hiring challenges by providing the best candidates in the marketplace and not the best candidates who are “looking” for a position.

What sets us apart is our emphasis on placing the very best candidates and not just the best candidates who are seeking a new position. We find hidden candidates who are not in the job market but are ready to make a strategic move for the right opportunity. These are the individuals who have to be “hunted” because they are not reading job advertisements.

Whether you need to hire one person or a team of people, or you’re looking to make your next career move, The Non-Profit Recruiter™ is dedicated to helping you achieve your goals quickly and effectively. Our passion is to solve problems and to make a difference in the lives of people!

Why Use The Non-Profit Recruiter™ as your Recruiter

Working with a good recruiter should result in hiring the best person for your position, not the “best person looking” for a new position. More often than not, the best candidates are gainfully employed, highly regarded by their current employers, and not actively seeking a new position. Therefore, these candidates are not likely to know that your job opportunity exists, even if it is a better opportunity for them. When people are not looking for a new position, they don’t spend much time surfing the Internet for open jobs. These candidates have to be approached and sought out by a good recruiter and convinced to look at a new opportunity. This is where The Non-Profit Recruiter™ can benefit you, the employer. If you are a professional with nonprofit experience and would like to be considered for current and future searches please send your resume to us to info@thenonprofitrecruiter.com
